
Brazilian president José Sarney with Fermilab director John Peoples at Fermilab in September of 1989.

Some of the Brazilian scientists that collaborated with Fermilab's Computing Division in 1990: Ignácio Bediaga, Isaías Costa, Alberto Reis, Roberto Valois (back row, from left), Carla de Barros, Carmem da Silva, Marcelo Mendes and Sandra Amato (front row, from left).

In 1989, Jussara Miranda (left) and João de Mello Neto (right) worked on experiment E769.

In 1990, among other Brazilians, Ivone Albuquerque and Marisa Maia worked on experiment E761.

Ricardo F. Barbosa (graduate student) working on detector components for the KAMI experiment in January 2000.

Jussara Miranda worked on E791 in 1994.

J. Rafael Silva is a Mechanical Engineer working at Fermilab since 1991. He designed various components for the KTeV experiment in 1993 and 1994.

J. Rafael Silva was the Mechanical Project Engineer for the COT tracking detector of the CDF experiment from 1995 to 2000.